

New Office Opening in Helmwood Center

Louisville, KY — June 5, 2008 — Center for Orthotic and Prosthetic Care (COPC), a leading healthcare provider in orthotics and prosthetics, announced today it is opening a new office located in the Helmwood Center in Elizabethtown, Kentucky. The office, which officially opens on June 30, 2008, will have three employees providing healthcare services to patients in Elizabethtown and surrounding areas. It will be managed by Jason Ala, CPO who is a certified prosthetist and orthotist with six years of clinical experience.

"We strive to bring healthcare services that patients need closer to their homes," said Keith Senn, COO. "Our new office will allow us to deliver quality patient care more conveniently."

The new office is located at:

Center for Orthotic & Prosthetic Care
Helmwood Center
914 N. Dixie Highway, Suite 109
Elizabethtown, KY 42701
Phone: 270-737-2672

Headquartered in Louisville, Kentucky, Center for Orthotic & Prosthetic Care is a full service orthotic and prosthetic firm with 10 locations in Kentucky, Indiana, and North Carolina. Services include the evaluation, customization and fitting of orthotic and prosthetic devices in hospitals, nursing homes, and offices. Center for Orthotic & Prosthetic also has a state-of-the-art in-house prosthetic device manufacturing facility located in Louisville, Kentucky.